Milwaukee—With every available space in Milwaukee's best auditorium taken, the northern Baptist convention took under way here early Wednesday in a business-like session, following a welcome extended by Frank H. Lindsay, Milwaukee, on behalf of his father, E. J. Lindsay, who was unable to attend.

As the first order of business, the executive committee submitted a report on three points of convention work. This referred to a change in the bylaws giving the general board of promotion the new name, "board of missionary cooperation," and the taking over by the committee on order of business of the general convention program.

JAPS PROTEST AGAINST BARS RAISED IN U. S.

Nippon Government Regrets Discriminatory Provisions of Recent Law

By Associated Press
Tokyo—Deep regret that the United States has enacted the immigration bill including a clause barring Japanese is voiced in an official statement issued late Wednesday by the foreign office.

"The Japanese government remains unshaken in their opposition to this discriminatory legislation against Japanese and they have instructed the Japanese ambassador at Washington to lodge a solemn protest with the United States government on this occasion," concludes the communiqué.

The document describes the immigration bill and its effects upon Japanese entering the United States and continues:

"Since the introduction of the introduction of the Johnson immigration bill, the base of the present act, into the house of the American house of representatives last December, the Japanese government have frequently and earnestly called the attention of the United States government to the Japanese exclusion provision. The Japanese government therefore deeply regret that this provision had been enacted in spite of their representations and the vigorous and repeated efforts made by the president and secretary of state of the United States to prevent the inclusion of the discriminatory provision in question."

The statement was issued late in the day, after an extraordinary cabinet session had approved the form of a protest whose framing was completed Tuesday and after, too, Foreign Minister Matsui had asked and obtained the sanction of the prince regent to the forwarding of the document to the Japanese press to execute moderation and restraint in handling the exclusion matter.

The protest was cabled to Ambassador Hanhara at Washington before the foreign office issued its statement. Afterward the foreign minister appealed to the Japanese press to exercise moderation and restraint in handling the exclusion matter.

SPONGE SQUAD FINDS STILL AND LIQUOR

Two Men Taken Into Court Following Raids by Prohibition Officers

Meenishine raids conducted by state prohibition officers and county authorities resulted in two more arrests Tuesday. Illegal liquor was found on the premises of Anton Elsch, town of Seymour, and August Wundrow, town of Buchanan, according to the officers.

A five-gallon moonshine still, 20 gallons of mash, 50 pounds of corn sugar and two and half gallons of moonshine whiskey were found on the Anton Elsch farm. No still was found on the August Wundrow farm, but the officers reported the discovery of about two gallons of illicit liquor which was hidden in various places on the premises.

Wundrow was arrested in municipal court on Tuesday afternoon and Elsch was arrested Wednesday. Both were released upon furnishing bail in the sum of $500. The former will have his hearing at 9 o'clock, June 10, and Elsch will have his preliminary examination at 10 o'clock June 16.

The examinations Tuesday in the cases of John Helzel, Greenville, and John Braunfeldt, Hortonville, whose raft drunk partners were raided by state officers a few weeks ago, resulted in their being bound over to the upper branch of municipal court for trial.

Paris—"Dapper Don" Collins 1924 Raffles and rum runner extraordinary is one of the world's slickest criminals in the eyes of the police who have finally captured him after a chase half-way around the earth; but in the eyes of beautiful Helen Patterson, 20-year-old divorced wife of Otto Heyworth, Chicago multi-millionaire, he is just plain Arthur Hussey, sweet heart agent.

But she may be doomed to considerable disappointment. For there is a Sing Sing sentence awaiting her.

Despite all this, Helen Patterson believes her "Harry," as she calls him, to be innocent, and she proposes to go to the limit for him.

COMMISSION FINDS COAL RATE UNFAIR AND ORDERS CHANGE

Case Is Brought by Operators Against Chicago and Alton Railroad

By Associated Press

Senator LaFollette Announces He May Run on Independent Ticket

DENOUNCES COMMUNISTS

Badger Veteran Insists Old Line Parties Purge Themselves of Evil

By Associated Press
Washington, D. C.—Senator LaFollette Wednesday virtually announced that he will run for president on an independent ticket unless "the approaching Democratic and Republican conventions demonstrate to the people whether either of those parties can and will urge itself of the evil influences which have long dominated them."

"If this is not done," Senator LaFollette wrote to Attorney General E. A. Tamm, "a long-suffering and righteously indignant people will find in the coming campaign effective means, independent of both these old parties to take control of their government and make it truly representative."

At the same time Senator LaFollette denounced the Communists and openly charged that they were seeking to take control of the "Farmer-Labor progressive convention" called to meet at St. Paul on June 17.

COMMIT FATAL ERROR

"In my judgment," he wrote, "the convention will not command the support of the farmers, the workers or other Progressives because those who have had charge of the arrangements for this convention have committed the fatal error of making the Communists an integral part of their organization. The Communists admittedly have entered into this political movement not for the purpose of curing by means of the ballot the evils which afflict the American people, but only to divide and confuse the Progressive movement and create a condition of chaos favorable to their ultimate aim. This is a purpose to be discarded by revolutionary action, a dictatorship of the proletariat which is absolutely repugnant to American ideals and to all American aspirations."

In his letter Senator LaFollette quoted an official statement of the central executive committee of the Workers Party of America and a cablegram from the Communist International at Moscow respecting plans for the St. Paul convention which he declared "show clearly that they are seeking to use the Farmer-Labor party of Minnesota and other Progressive organizations who have lent their names to this convention as means of advancing their own ends."

ROAD BUREAU ORDERS PROBE OF OPERATIONS

Highway Commission Investigates with View to Reducing Personnel

By Associated Press
Madison—Acting State Engineer John T. Donaghey was directed by the state highway commission Tuesday to make an extended investigation of the work of the highway department to determine any places where the road forces might be reduced or altered as demanded by Governor Blaine. W. O. Hotchkiss, chairman of the commission, announced Wednesday.

After taking up in detail statements made by the governor in recent communications, the commission authorized M. W. Torkelson, secretary, to prepare an answer to the governor based on motions adopted at Tuesday's session.

Chairman Hotchkiss said that since the commission already has reduced operation costs of the state department approximately $50,000 during the past eight months there is little opportunity for further reduction. No changes in the personnel of the department are likely, it is said.

It is expected the governor will be given the commission's answer within two or three days.

RAILROADS MUST MAINTAIN TARGETS

State Commission Orders Badger Roads to Erect Safety Devices

By Associated Press
Madison—Railroads operating in Wisconsin were ordered by the state railroad commission to equip and maintain all main track switches on main and branch lines with signal stands and targets both day and night. The order was issued, it was stated, after investigation by the commission and as a precautionary measure.

Several lines have not maintained such signal targets it is said.

The commission also ordered the city of Wauskeha to fix a 25 per cent surcharge on water consumers outside the city and the DeFere Light and Power Co to revise its schedules.

HOLD AUTO THIEF FOR PASSING BAD CHECKS IN VALLEY

Driver of Rental Car Arrested at Green Bay Faces Serious Charge

Robert Prickett, arrested last week in Green Bay when he was found with an automobile which he had rented from the Ford Rental Co. of Appleton and had failed to return, is facing prosecution on charges of forging numerous checks in north-eastern Wisconsin cities. A large number of checks ranging from $4 to about $35, forged recently, are charged to him. Merchants in Green Bay, Menasha, Neenah, Kaukauna, Oconto, Marinette and Shawano are said to be among his victims. So far as is known, none of the checks was cashed in Appleton.

Prickett, it is said, worked under a large number of aliases. At Menasha he was known as C. M. Bartleson and he also used that name in other cities in this vicinity.

The Ford car which he rented here and which led to his apprehension, was taken on May 17 and driven 1,500 or more miles before the driver was arrested. He was picked up when he drove up to a Green Bay store where he hoped to cash another check. The car, not much the worse for its experience, has been returned to Appleton. It is not likely that a charge of automobile stealing will be preferred against him inasmuch as he is being held on the forgery charges. It is alleged that he has served a term for forgery.

POLICE HOLDING CAR THIEVES ABANDONED

Police have not yet ascertained the ownership of the Ford touring car abandoned by gasoline thieves on Lawrence street early yesterday morning. The police have seized the car and are holding it for possible identification of the three men who were stealing gasoline from Don Dickinson's car. While police are looking for information about this car they have been asked to aid in the search for two other automobiles that were stolen this week in Green Bay and Fond du Lac. The one stolen at Green Bay is a Ford sedan, 1923 model, with license number B33-512, while the car stolen at Fond du Lac is a Ford coupe, 1924 model, with license number B36-694. The latter car carried a spare tire on the rear.

100 Mississippi Farmers Will Visit Appleton

Appleton will be visited by a delegation of 100 Mississippi farmers early in the fall, according to a letter received by Mayor John Goodland, Jr., from A. A. Nordt, commissioner of immigration, Columbus, Miss.

These men are members of the Northwestern Mississippi Prairie Farmers Cooperative Association, Inc., an organization formed to promote the black line soil district of Mississippi. Gov. Henry L. Whitfield of that state will accompany them.

Mayor Goodland has turned the letter over to the chamber of commerce and that body and Robert Amundson, county agricultural agent, will make preparations to entertain the delegation. The journey will be made by train.

The purpose of the journey to Wisconsin is to learn about the dairy farming in this locality and gain the acquaintance of breeders who later could be the source for purchase of cattle for the Mississippi farmers. Dairying is being taken up extensively there, it is said, because of the damage caused to the cotton crop by the boll weevil and the exodus of Negroes from the south, resulting in a labor shortage. Diversified farming there has become necessary.

Appleton is asked to provide a hall for a one-day gathering here to which leading farmers would be invited. Speakers for the delegation will out-

COUNCIL WITNESSES DEMONSTRATION OF GARBAGE DISPOSAL

Fertilizer and Grease Produced from Garbage Collected in City

William Laabs of Badger Reduction company of Milwaukee gave a demonstration of his new equipment for reducing garbage to fertilizer and grease for the profit of the garbage disposal committee of the common council at Wisconsin Rendering company's plant on Sunday.

A model of the latest type of machine was temporarily installed and a ton of average garbage picked up in the city was run through it. The test produced 483 pounds of dry fertilizer which sells at approximately $8 per ton and 101 pounds of house grease, the market price of which is 6 1/2 cents per pound.

The equipment which Mr. Laabs is offering the city has a daily capacity of ten tons of garbage and the price is $16,500. It requires two shifts of one man each working eight hours to operate it. No objection is made by the city to the plant or the process of reduction and the equipment has the sanction of the state board of health. It is said.

Mr. Laabs says the purchase of the equipment is a business proposition which will bring good returns on the investment from the start and the plant will pay for itself in a very few years as there is always a demand for its products. Another meeting of the committee, which is composed of Aldermen Mike Steinhauer, chairman, Herman Beske, George Richards, J. F. Lappen, Jerry Callahan and Wenzel Hassman will be held within the next few days and it is possible some action will be taken.

Man Reported Dead Drives Home In Car

Leonard Martin, like Mark Twain, was able to state that the reports of his death were "grossly exaggerated" when he met his parents, Mr. and Mrs. August Martin, Shiloctor, accompanied by R. G. Sawyer, Shiloctor undertaker, hurrying into the town of Greenville to get his "body" which they believed was cold in death beside the wreckage of his automobile last Sunday evening.

Late Sunday afternoon "information" reached Martin's parents that his automobile had been wrecked and he was killed in an accident about one-half mile northwest of Greenville. They knew the young man had gone toward Greenville in his car and they assumed the information was correct. They were told there was no need to take a doctor, so they arranged with Mr. Sawyer to go to Greenville to get the body.

While they were on their way they met Martin driving home in his car. So far as is known, Mr. Martin was not in an accident and his parents are at a loss to know where the rumors of the young man's death started.

Three husbands and unlike most women she can't get rid of them even when she gets a divorce. There's an intriguing something about this character which just keeps a husband hanging around and where they are current—"has-beens" or would-be's—they stick around and offer advice after the manner of perfect husbands.

It's really pretty clever to be able to do it. So many men really resent being divorced—for no particular reason except that some one else offers a nicer residence for the pretty wife. "The Goldfish" was adapted by C. Gardner Sullivan from Gladys Gardner stage play, in which Marjory Rambeau was featured.

Jack Mulhall is Constance's leading man. Others having prominent roles in the cast are Jean Hersholt, Za Su Pitts, Edward Connelly, William Conklin, Nellie Ely Baker, Leo White and Frank Elliott.

"The Goldfish," a First National picture is showing at the Elite theater tonight for the last time.

THRILLS AND LAUGHS IN "REPORTED MISSING"

The much talked of picture, "Reported Missing," comes to the New Bijou theatre today and Thursday. This Seznick picture, in which Owen Moore is starred is really one of those super-productions we hear so much about but rarely see. It is full of the type of thrills which have made motion pictures the world's most popular entertainment. One of these scenes, a race between a sea sled and a hydroaeroplane, is worth the price of admission alone. Following this chase comes one in high powered autoes. In this latter race Moore, in the part of Richard Boyd, stages a scene which is the replica of those thrilling events which fill the daily papers on summer Monday. In endeavoring to steer clear of a child in his path he swings his machine over an embankment. In addition to these thrills there is a shipwreck which contains a series of remarkable sea scenes photographed in a manner which vividly illustrates the rapid artistic advance of the cinema.

MORE WISCONSIN "REFORM"

Governor Blaine is always in trouble with somebody. When it is not with the state board of control, the state tax commission, the heads of our charitable and penal institutions, it is with the state highway department. Most of it is pure politics and nothing else. Of course, it is all done in the name of reform, some times more or less plausible on the surface, but generally spurious in fact. There never has been a time in the history of the state when there were more political sinecures on the public payroll, and when those favored with these soft jobs had to do the bidding of the power which put them in office than today. Whenever any real independence is shown in serving the public interests or in refusing to submit to machine pressure, a way is soon found to oust the offender. A great many instances of this kind are on record during the Blaine administration, in fact, they have come to be such a common occurrence that the public takes them as a matter of course.

Mr. Blaine is now involved in a characteristic controversy with the state highway commission. We do not pretend to know where the merits of the dispute lie. It would be hazardous to make a guess one way or the other, because so much is under cover the public knows nothing about that it is impossible to form a correct opinion until the row has been more completely aired. This much may be said, nevertheless, that Governor Blaine's concern about the amount of money spent for highway improvement is a little far-fetched when we think of the millions of dollars that are being wasted in excessive bureaucratic state government and for the pure purpose of political exploitation.

A state in which administrative government alone increased in cost from $10,000,000 to more than $20,000,000 in ten years is not the kind of reform state that appeals to hard-headed taxpayers and competent citizens. This sort of reckless use of public money continues in most of the departments of state government. If there has been over-expenditure for highway purposes, it is not necessarily the fault of the state highway department. Most of the money spent for good roads in this state has been appropriated by local units and has been wisely and efficiently spent. There may be some scandals at Madison of which the public is ignorant, but if so they are quite incidental to the main fact that Wisconsin has engaged in recent years in a program of highway improvement that is entirely constructive and desirable.

EUROPE'S EMIGRANTS

The fact that 58 nations sent representatives to the conference on emigration and immigration at Rome shows that the question is of world wide importance, no doubt rendered the more pressing by the new restrictive policy of the United States. The outflow from the countries of Europe must either be checked at the source or new channels must be opened. Fortunately there is industrial development in several of the countries most concerned. The choice of Rome as a meeting place of the conference was fitting because Italy has a larger problem of emigration than perhaps any other country. Great Britain can send its "surplus" to its colonies, but Italy's must go to foreign shores. Between 1901 and 1910 Italians entered the United States to the number of 2,045,000. Austria-Hungary sending us a few more and Russia considerably less in the same period.

Thirty years ago Brazil was receiving nearly three times as many Italian immigrants as the United States and no longer ago than 1912 Argentina received 165,000 Italians in that year. The competition of the United States now being practically cut off, Argentina and Brazil may again draw largely from Italy. And the outflow may be lessened by Italy's developing industries, particularly if Mussolini realizes his schemes of great industrial expansion. No doubt the other nations largely concerned will also be able to accommodate themselves to the new conditions, although Europe must now place elsewhere the annual "surplus" of people formerly finding homes in the United States.

PINCHOT AND MELLON

In a public address on May 11 Governor Pinchot of Pennsylvania attributed to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon the failure of prohibition enforcement and declared that the secretary's interest in a distillery should bar him from his office, implying that Mr. Mellon had been guilty of grave personal misconduct. Commenting, the New York World said that in his own as well as the government's interest Secretary Mellon should demand an investigation. In response Mr. Mellon wrote the World that Governor Pinchot's charges were too vague to be taken seriously and challenged him to make them specific. The letter that followed from Governor Pinchot to the World failed to make the specific charges Secretary Mellon demanded, but again brought a general accusation of the official failure of the treasury department to enforce the prohibition laws.

Governor Pinchot also returned to his attack on Mr. Mellon personally, saying in part: "I repeat what I said at Springfield, that I do not know whether it is legal for a man who has been in the whisky business for forty years, and who still has an interest in large quantities of whisky, to be at the head of law enforcement, but I do know that it is wrong. In spite of everything that Secretary Mellon could do to prevent it, a senatorial investigation of the enforcement service has been ordered. That will take care of the details the secretary asks for." As the task seems to be virtually an impossible one, Secretary Mellon, whatever the extent of his effort, could hardly have prevented what Governor Pinchot describes as the "dismal failure" of prohibition enforcement, but in view of the circumstances and the charges an investigation would unquestionably seem to be desirable and it is well that it is to go forward.

GIVING THEM THE GAS

Trotsky, war minister and chief of the Red Army of Russia, told a big audience of communists in the Bolshoi theater, Moscow, that it is the policy of the soviet government to be frank with the people. He called attention to manufacture of asphyxiation gases in the United States and warned the people that gas warfare is near at hand. When we remember that the press of Russia is controlled by the soviet government, we are not surprised that campaign propaganda of this sort gets by. Citizens of the United States know that the only gas warfare which is imminent is on the political stump and in congress.

TODAY'S POEM

By Berton Eraley

CAVE MAN STUFF

The cave men, so we learn from science, were not a race of splendid giants, but rather small and weak. And from a study of each fossil we gather they were shy and docile, with natures mild and meek.

It was, we learn, the cave man's habit to run away from any rabbit that showed a sign of fight. He lived on snails and little fishes, and various vegetable dishes. Satisfied his appetite.

So any modern tear-room lizard, with varnished hair discreetly scowled, could make him run away. And ladies who adorn a brave man would sniff if they should meet a cave man; he'd get the gate today.

Yet, though the scientific discoverer the cave man was a timid lover, the women still agree. On longing for a bold pursuer, the kind of chap the cave man was, was once supposed to be.

Health Talks

BY WILLIAM BRADY, M. D.

Noted Physician and Author

Dr. Brady will answer all signed letters pertaining to health. Writer's names are never printed. Only inquiries of general interest are answered in this column, but all letters will be answered by mail if written in ink and a stamped, self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Requests for diagnosis or treatment of individual cases cannot be considered. Address Dr. William Brady, in care of this paper.

WHEEEZ WHEEEZ, WENT THE BRONCHITIS

If you are nursing a recurring "winter cough" or "dry catarrh" or chronic bronchitis or bronchiectasis, take my advice and don't rest. It will only arouse your indignity, and goodness knows I have nothing against you as long as you don't come wheezing around about the bad weather we have here at home. For ten years I have been trying to tell you how to get along without too much concern about your bronchic tools, and you have set me down as a crank with queer notions because my teachings have not always coincided with the almanacology of the subject. Most of your life you have constantly exercised yourself to avoid drafts, damp and changeable weather and comfortable undervest, these being the main prophylactic precautions laid down by the health authorities proper, the officials you pay to keep you well, whether they do or not. Now, if in spite of all this thoughtless care and coddling you have acquired a fixed cough and maybe an individual line of wheezes by way of accompaniment, I do not blame you for it. I don't even say I told you so. But tell me, is it fair to ask me to sympathize with you? No. Let the doctors and the health teachers who taught you how to acquire chronic bronchitis or bronchiectasis sympathize with you. They're strong on sympathy, I have noticed.

"Please tell the doctors about the posture treatment," writes a reader with bronchiectasis. (That, by the way, means dilation of bronchial tubes, a fairly frequent occurrence in chronic bronchitis.) "Oster has it in his book." (Not in my copy though the great teacher mentions that change of posture often brings on severe coughing and the expectation of a large quantity of sputum.) "One physician who assured me he was making a special study of my case never heard of it. He had me sitting up in bed or a chair with backrest and pillows, when I was raising several cupsful of sputum daily."

The use of posture as a remedial measure is perhaps not taken as seriously as it should be. Physicians whose confidence in less rational agencies is childish. At first blush it does seem undignified to stand a patient on his head, I suppose. A doctor is naturally anxious to put a patient on his feet—or he was before the advent of balloon tires.

Victims of chronic bronchitis with profuse expectoration, whether any bronchial tubes are dilated or not, commonly have a coughing spell on rising in the morning. Not a bad habit for them to assume, an inverted posture for five or ten minutes at that time and again at mid-day and again before retiring, or better half a dozen drainage from the bronchi posture which favors the removal of mucus, when I was raising several cupsful of sputum daily.

Sometimes this is most easily effected by hanging the head and shoulders over the edge of the bed, resting the forearms on the floor. Sometimes the knee-chest posture is preferable. Head stands, somersaults, and the dachshund crawl a number of times around the room are stunts which interest victims who have not yet wheezed their way into the chimney corner. These latter methods are not for grumblers with frail dignity and brittle arteries. All that wheezes is not old. Of course these postural maneuvers induce coughing—that is necessary to assist the drainage of the bronchiectatic cavities.

Another thing I've urged for many years in my line of work is that subjects of chronic bronchitis or bronchiectasis, if not physically disabled, should take the air every day and the weather be damned. This implies a mind free from weather-phobia, and that brings us to the question of climate, which will make a good story for another day.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Sweet Cream

Has the consuming of sweet cream had effect on the stomach, being too rich a food? (R.)

Answer.—No, it has no effect on the stomach, provided you need the food. It is only those who add a dash of sweet cream to an already excessive meal who find it bad for the stomach.

There Won't Be A Next Time

Over at Two Rivers one of the saloonkeepers was busy playing cards when the state dry force came in. One of them asked for a "little drink" and big boob said, "I'm busy, go behind the bar and help yourself."

Here's a new one. In a recent moonshine raid in this town, the dry officer leashed the bartender in this fashion: "Why, J. J., I am surprised. You ought to be ashamed of yourself to sell that dirty, rotten stuff at 30 cents a glass. Why even the other saloonkeepers in this town don't charge any more than a quarter." "Well, grumbled the barkeep, 'that's all we're selling it for.' And then the barkeeper wondered what he had done or said to be arrested.

IT WAS

While we are at it, we'd like to ask the folks if they remember the Appleton bartender who sold a dry officer a drink and bragged it was moonshine? The officer said, "You can't fool me," and so the bartender took the visitor upstairs to prove it.

Anybody who would like to have some barbering done might go to the calf on Frank Letts' farm. That's all right, we meant no insult. The calf is a real calf and the barbering is for horses only. The calf set itself up in business the other day by bobbing a horse's tail with its teeth.

Next month is the month of roses and brides—and the income tax installment.

The city hall reporter informs us that there was some dispute as to who should appoint the deputy health officer. The city council finally admitted that the authority belongs to the board of health. It doesn't make much difference, except that the board of health gets the cigars, that's all.

Anent that detour sign off highway 15, Mawruss observes that some of the mudholes are like love. You don't know how deep they are until you get into them.

One redeeming feature of the city of Menasha is that it certainly is a good baseball town and in that respect makes Appleton look like the end of a cow's tail—trailing far behind.

But if Appleton sport fans prefer their corn cobs, couches, or even a lightseeing tour over country roads to a real game of baseball, it is their funeral.

Now is the time for all good farmers to begin fortifying their systems against a spring attack of free advice dispensers.

ROLLO.

Tropical Birds Are Architects With Much Skill

Paul Neumann, in Illustrierte Zeitungs, Leipzig.

There are skillful architects among the birds, and the most skillful of them all are the so-called weavers. They are largely inhabitants of tropical countries, and are, in fact, characteristic elements of tropical landscapes, for they congregate in large flocks and perch in profusion on every tree and shrub.

The goldweaver for instance, lives on the eastern coast of the Red sea and is found even in the mountains of Abyssinia and in the eastern Sudan country. Its nests are built up on the very tips of leaves and usually above the water so that it is impossible for little four-legged robbers to plunder them.

Madagascar weavers have remarkable nests built of various materials. The entrance to the nests is roofed over the grass and the front wall is decked with moss, while the back wall is formed of coarse reed leaves.

Western Africa, is the home of the "splendid" weaver. The bird really deserves the name, for its beautiful black, glistening feathers set off striking blood-red stripes about the throat and along the neck. Its nest is very large in comparison to the size of the weaver itself. It is of a peculiar form, the entrance being a long tube leading into a round hollow which is the nest proper.

The most famous of the weaver birds is the Indian Baya. This bird is not content with merely building a beautiful nest for its eggs and offspring; it builds a second nest of quite different shape to serve for sleeping purposes. This second nest has a broad opening with a bar across it on which the bird can perch and sing.

All birds of this particular family are very fond of building nests. They are great little architects. Indeed, even when caught and kept in a cage they are constantly busy if only they can get the necessary building materials. If they lack this material each bird will take pieces away from the nest of its neighbor so that no one's nest can really be finished.

And now at last, let me introduce the Klecho to you. Klecho lives on the Sudan islands. He belongs to a group of birds which is slightly related to our swallows. The nest of the Klecho is quite unique in that it has room for but one egg. The bird is able to cover and entirely hide its nest beneath its body.

"TWO FLOORS OF GOOD THINGS TO WEAR"

Adventures In The Library

By ARNOLD MULDER

WHITTIER AS A FIGHTER

Open a book of authors and take a good look at the face of John Greenleaf Whittier, of "Snowbound" and "Barefoot Boy" fame. If you were looking for the personification of mildness and gentleness, you would not need to go further.

And on top of that Whittier was a Quaker who took the philosophy of the Society of Friends very seriously. In his letters to literary friends in the New England group he addressed them in the familiar "thee" of the Quakers and he was kind and wise and pure-hearted almost to a fault.

But kind and mild people are not by any means always such because they are afraid to be anything else. Persons of pugnacious temperament are usually quick to attribute that character to the person so opposed to them in mental and spiritual attitude, but history has shown again and again that underneath the mildness of some persons there is the temper of a lion.

STARVED FOR PRINCIPLE

And the author of "Snowbound" amply proved that he was a fighter who was ready to go to any length to stand by his convictions. Whittier's was a case of a literary career being retarded for years because he insisted on voicing his sentiments on the slavery question no matter what effect it had on his fortunes. During the Civil war and a few years before it there were a great many who were ready to speak out, but Whittier was a red-hot Abolitionist 20 years and more before the opening of the war, when an Abolitionist was about the most unpopular person in America. He lived in comparative poverty until after the close of the Civil war and his poems brought him practically nothing until 1867 simply because he insisted on speaking out about the slavery question.

So unpopular was an Abolitionist even in the North that at one time Whittier's printing plant in Philadelphia was wrecked by a mob. The poet disguised himself with a wig and a raincoat and joined the wrecking party and in this way he succeeded in saving many of his valuable papers. It was a very bold thing to do because if that infuriated mob had recognized him his life would probably have been forfeit.

"SNOWBOUND" MADE HIM

Whittier was not a supremely great poet but one cannot help but respect the man behind the old favorites such as "Snowbound." It was not until that well known American classic appeared that Whittier can be said to have come into his own, and there is the zest of adventure about regarding that old favorite with the facts of the life of the author in mind.

And there is an added adventure in reading such a classic as "Snowbound" because of the contrast it presents with the life of today. It would hardly be possible for a poet of today to write "Snowbound," because the life of today even on the isolated farms of the country is so radically different from the life of the days described by Whittier.

And the invention of the radio, has probably ended forever the chance of another "Snowbound." If the characters in Whittier's famous poem had had the radio they would not have been telling stories around the firelight and reading old dog-eared books that had been read a dozen times before. They would have tuned in on the latest concert in New York or Chicago or they would have listened to an address by the president of the United States.

Perhaps some present-day Whittier will some time write a "Snowbound" in the 1924 style. It would be an interesting experiment.

The Question Box

(Any reader can get the answer to any question by writing The Appleton Post-Crescent Information Bureau: Frederick J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C. This offer applies strictly to information. The Bureau cannot give advice on legal, medical, and financial matters. It does not attempt to settle domestic troubles, nor to undertake exhaustive research on any subject. Write your question plainly and briefly. Give full name and address and enclose two cents in stamps for return postage. All replies are sent direct to the inquirer.)

Q. When will the Jewish New Year come this year? M. P. D. B.

A. In 1924 it occurs on September 11.

Q. How are the press galleries in the Capitol managed? P. A. D.

A. Press galleries of the House of Representatives and the Senate are under control of a standing committee of correspondents, subject to the approval and supervision of the Speaker of the House and the Senate Committee on rules.

Q. Should eggs be washed? A. F. N.

A. The Department of Agriculture says that eggs should not be washed. Washed eggs deteriorate more rapidly than unwashed. Although dirty eggs are discounted in price, washing eggs will usually cause producers a greater loss. It is best to use the dirty eggs on the farm and market only the best quality of clean, unwashed eggs.

The Flexibility of a Trust Fund

ONE of the great advantages of leaving your property in trust is that it enables you to place broad discretionary powers in safe hands.

Perhaps for all ordinary circumstances the income alone from your trust fund would suffice for your family's reasonable needs. But in the event of serious illness, or in many other contingencies, you might wish the principal drawn upon. Such provisions you can incorporate in your trust arrangement.

You can include your life insurance as well as your property, in your trust fund.

We should be glad to talk with you at any time about this matter of trusts.

HONOR STUDENT IN
MAIN ROLE OF PLAYHigh School Seniors Present
Comedy As Part of Commencement Program

Kaukauna—Prentice Hale, son of Mrs. Leona L. Hale, valedictorian of the high school class of 1924, will take the part of Austin Bevans, automobile salesman with ideas, the leading male character in the annual high school senior class play, "The Charm School," a comedy in three acts to be presented in the auditorium on Wednesday, June 11. Bevans inherits a girls' boarding school and undertakes to run the place. His opinion is that charm should be the predominating characteristic of any young lady and makes that the feature of the school. His ideas bring about many amusing situations.

Another important character, is that of George Boyd, taken by Gilbert St. Mitchell. Boyd becomes Austin Bevans' chief rival for the hand of the girl in the case, Rebecca, however, does not realize his means in the girl, consequently is unaware that Boyd is a rival.

The girl in the case is Elise Benedette, played by Gertrude Ditter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ditter. Elise comes to the school in full possession of all the charm possible which adds to the brightness of the play.

Scenes of the play are laid in an attic of a boys' rooming house and in rooms of the girls' boarding school. The play is not unopinionably funny but is replete with amusing incidents and clever conversations. Special numbers will be rendered between acts by the high school orchestra and Harold Dorus, 23.

JURIST WARNS TO BEWARE OF FOES WITHIN OUR GATES

Judge Henry Graass Delivers
Stirring Address at Rotary Meeting

In an inspirational address before members of the Rotary club and their guests, the Grand Army of the Republic, Judge Henry Graass, commissioner of the Spanish war, and commanders of the American legion, Judge Henry Graass of Green Bay, sounded a warning against the enemies of the government within the United States rather than those without.

"The time has come when we must make our choice between the form of government established by George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, and Alexander Hamilton and the form of government proposed by Eugene Debs and Victor Berger," he said.

The civil war veterans occupied the head table with the speaker and officers of the Rotary club. Those present were John Felton, Frank Wolf, G. Langstadt, Nick Kirsch, Dr. A. W. Kanouse, L. Merkel, Dennis Meldam, J. E. McCabe, William H. Priest, Gottlieb Selgert, A. C. Simpson, William Stammer, William Wilson, D. H. Wilder, J. D. Hanchett, Capt. Fred Heineemann, and Mr. Barnard of Appleton and John D. Lawrence and James Conway of Kaukauna.

Those unable to be present were Capt. John M. Baer, Sam Barnhart, Frank Bailey, B. F. Brown and H. G. Freeman.

Commissioned officers of the Spanish war and commanders of the American legion present were Col. W. H. Zuehlke, Major H. E. Pomeroy, Homer Benton, Lothar Graef, H. J. Pettigrew, L. Hugo Keller and C. C. Baker.

SING WAR SONGS
The address was preceded by the singing of war songs by the entire assemblage and by a quartet composed of C. J. Waterman, Carl S. McKee, George Nixon and R. L. Jacobs. The fact that many of the old veterans retain still their voices notwithstanding their advanced years was demonstrated when they sang alone.

"It is certainly a happy circumstance," said Judge Graass, "for the Appleton Rotarians to have selected these old and new warriors to be present here and I want to compliment them on their foresight. I am happy to be the speaker for this occasion."

Judge Graass touched on the history of Memorial day which he said was formerly known as Decoration day and was originated by Gen. John Logan in 1863. He paid a tribute to the soldiers who fought and died for their country and called attention to the debt of gratitude owed them in the way of recalling their valorous deeds and seeing their graves are kept green. It is a Memorial day duty we owe them, he declared.

NOT A HOLIDAY
"Memorial day was not instituted," said the speaker "as a holiday. It was instituted, I believe, for us to show our appreciation of the boys who offered their lives in the service of their country. Memorial day was not instituted for an automobile tour or a visit to a baseball park. To me Memorial day, in its majestic significance, ranks close to Easter day itself, for they died that others might live."

"This is certainly a wonderful experience to me to see so many of these old soldiers present. You know, I never thought of these boys as anything other than old soldiers. Sixty years ago when they responded to the call of their country they were full of cheer and pep. We have always called them old soldiers. Let all who come into their presence be sure to honor them."

ONLY A FEW LEFT
The speaker called attention to the rapidly with which the ranks of the veterans are being diminished. He said there are only about 25,000 left and they are being summoned at the rate of five or six hundred a year. Whole posts are surrendering to defeat. In his home town, Sturgeon Bay, Judge Graass said there were only two surviving members of the post left.

"There can be no denying," said Judge Graass, "the Grand Army of the Republic is near its dissolution. It can exist at most as a compact organization only a few years. Boys, we ought to feel honored to be in their presence."

"It will be only a few years before the last member of the Grand Army of the Republic will be mustered out. Let us do our duty while they are with us. Times change. As the Grand Army of the Republic goes out the American legion comes in."

AMERICA FOR AMERICA
"I know of no other organization to which we can look to the future. We must see that America is kept for America. They must see that we preserve our constitution and preserve this liberty which we enjoy today. We have grown and prospered as no other nation. We have prospered because we have been governed by a written constitution which is the greatest constitution ever given by a government to its citizens. "They say this constitution has outlived its usefulness. Looking into the future I can see a struggle of great proportions. The time is coming when liberty loving people will take a stand against bolsheviks and socialists. The transition through which this country is passing threatens the greatest republic the world has ever seen. "Whenever I hear a politician praise a democracy he does not know what he is talking about. Our forefathers had before them all the gov-

YOUNGER ELECTED HEAD OF TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION

Frank Younger was elected president of the Appleton Teachers' association at a meeting of the directors of the association on Tuesday. Miss Alma Bohman was reelected secretary-treasurer.

Comments of the world when they formed the republican government. They went back to Egypt and saw democracy was not successful. Most of those arrayed against the constitution are not American citizens. Most of them are from alien lands under foreign flags. "Today we fear the enemy within our gates. We fear the enemy within our own walls. We have got to keep our interest in these allied societies. We have got to gather these survivors and we have got to show the world we believe in the sacrifices these men have made. We hope that war will never again come to America, but to destroy our national defense will not do away with war."

SLOW PROGRESS ON BIG CONSTRUCTION JOBS IN APPLETON

Unseasonable Weather Hampers
Contractors on Bridge and Schools

A tour of inspection was made by Mayor John Goodland, Jr. and the common council Monday to view what progress has been made in the construction of the Cherry-st viaduct and the two junior high schools. Progress has not been very satisfactory. It was found. Weather conditions have tended to delay the construction work at the junior high schools. In spite of the rains, however, a considerable part of the excavating and cement work on footings and foundations has been done.

Work on the Cherry-st bridge is progressing very slowly. Delay in the arrival of steel hampered the construction to some extent. Some of the city officials are doubtful if the bridge will be completed before fall. According to contract, the bridge was to be completed by July 1. Building of the Cherry-st bridge probably will result in the adoption of a huge paving program for 1925 and 1926. Routing of state highway traffic over the new bridge may require the paving of both Cherry and Richmond-sts. Since highway 18 will come over Seymour-st to connect with the Cherry-st road, and since traffic to St. Elizabeth hospital will have a tendency to cut up Seymour-st, it is probable this street will have to be paved sooner or later.

Grading and cladding of Cherry-st road and the new street that will lead to Seymour-st to connect with Foster-st, east of Cherry-st road, will be undertaken this year.

Denyes, will select members of the committees and elect new officers at a meeting at 7:30 Wednesday evening at the Y. M. C. A. Officers will submit their reports.

Clam Diggers Hope For Revival Of Demand From Pearl Button Factories

American Button Factories Forced Out of Business by Japanese Competition When Tariff Is Cut.

BY W. F. WINSEY

Fremont — Not many years ago clam digging, manufacturing pearl buttons and shipping clam shells was an important industry along the shores of the Wolf river, between Shiocton and Bay Boom, that employed several hundred men. Two hundred of these men were actual clam diggers, another two hundred were engaged in the manufacture of blanks and pearl buttons and the balance of the workers collected and prepared the raw shells for factory and market. The surplus shells that local factories could not use were carried to Oshkosh by steamboat for shipment by rail to distant factories.

Of late years, however, clam digging and kindred occupations have been checked to a considerable extent by a decreased demand for pearl buttons and an alleged tampering with the tariff laws that permitting the Japanese with their cheap labor to place the finished pearl button on the local market at a lower price than American labor can turn out the blanks from which pearl buttons are made. The Japanese have been able to capture the market and to cripple the pearl button industry in this country.

As a result of these unfavorable conditions, several pearl button factories that drew their raw material from the Wolf river and its tributaries were obliged to shut down a few years ago and a large number of clam diggers and factory hands were thrown out of employment. Probably not over fifty men will be engaged in clam digging and the manufacture of pearl buttons on the Wolf river this summer. Of that number 10 men are now employed by the Wolf River Pearl Button Company at Fremont in the manufacture of pearl button blanks. But L. E. Zuehlke, manager of the plant says he expects to double his force when clam digging opens on the first of June. On that date 30 clam diggers will begin operations from Shiocton and Bay Boom.

The reason for the new inspiration that has been given to the clam industry in Wisconsin is that the tariff has recently been replaced on the imported article that tends to equalize the difference in the cost of labor abroad and at home and to give the home industry a chance to revive and recover from the disastrous competition of the Japanese.

If this is the outcome of the new tariff, the clam industry not only on the Wolf river but also on the Fox River, Embarras, Baraboo and all other rivers having clam beds, will enjoy a new lease of life and former prosperity.

Clam digging on the Wolf river depends usually upon the use of a scow 24 feet long by 4 feet wide. The scow is motor driven to the scene of operations but the clam digger is restrained by law from using propelling power other than oars or current in dragging the river bottom.

When the clam digger arrives at the clam beds, he drops down from the stern of his scow into the river an iron tube two inches in diameter and 12 feet long which is attached to the boat and held in a horizontal position at the depth required by ropes. To this tube are fastened a large number of barbed hooks of great size. When a hook comes in contact with an open clam, the clam grabs it and holds on.

To propel and to steer the scow about the bed, a piece of canvas similar to a sail is lowered into the river from the bow of the scow. The current acting on the canvas moves the boat and by changing the angle of the canvas, the scow is steered. This propelling and steering device is called a "mule."

On shore, the clam digger has a vat 4 feet by 4 feet by 12 feet into which he dumps his clams and treats them with steam or a bath of hot water as the first part of ridding the shells of fleshy matter.

After this process, the shells are conveyed by boat to a factory or a shipping point. The average day's catch is 200 pounds for which the digger receives pay at the rate of $30 per ton. The Wolf River Pearl Button Company is now using 100 tons of clam shells yearly.

Gasoline By the Pound

In order that the general public may visualize gasoline prices in true perspective, the Standard Oil Company (Indiana) is endeavoring, in its advertising, to draw just comparisons with other staple and essential products.

At today's prices, if gasoline were sold by the pound, the price at service stations would be about 3½¢ per pound.

Compare this with sugar at 10¢ a pound; bread or milk at 8¢ per pound; butter at 45¢ and cheese at 60¢ per pound, and it is apparent at once that gasoline prices are low—especially so when the service rendered by gasoline is considered.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana) states, that with few exceptions, no other manufactured necessity is sold at as low a price as gasoline.

This low price is maintained despite the hazards attending the production of gasoline, and the vast amount of capital required to provide distribution facilities adequate to supply you with gasoline, when and where you want it.

The Standard Oil Company (Indiana), through intensified organization and unceasing initiative, has been a potent factor in the maintenance of low gasoline prices.

This Company endeavors to symbolize that American spirit of dynamic leadership, which combines business initiative with scientific skill for service to the thirty million people of the Middle West. This comprehensive service enables the man in modest circumstances to operate his automobile at a fuel cost which he easily can afford.

equal to that of the blank to be cut and with the wall about the thickness of the blade of a hand saw. Is used Saw teeth are cut into one end of the tube and is inserted into a rapidly revolving lathe. Against the raw teeth at the end of the tube, the operator presses the clam shell from which the blanks are to be saved. The blank on being cut passes into the tube and is forced through it by the succeeding blanks cut.

After saving, if the necessary equipment is at hand, the blanks are turned into the finished product but if it is lacking, they are shipped to finishing factories.

Clam diggers find lots of imperfect pearls in clam shells and occasionally a big, perfect one of great value. Ray Looker, Fremont, it is said has a ten grain pearl, Guy Pitt a eleven grain pearl and Fred Brillington several of various weights and values. William Peters, sold an eight grain pearl several years ago for $110 and Fred Langford sold a ten grain pearl at a great price.

Car Goes In Ditch

A Chandler sedan, driven by Mrs. Fred Rahr, Oshkosh, ran into a ditch along the road between Appleton and Menasha late Monday night and was badly wrecked. Mrs. Rahr, who was alone, said her car left the road while passing a motorbus. She escaped injury.

Miraculous Results Are Testified to By Tubercular Sufferers Who Have Used the "Haelan" Treatment at Home

Dr. E. M. Davis, a prominent Denver physician, says: "I have personally treated a large number of pulmonary tubercular cases with 'Haelan.' Cases of the chronic type where a continual loss of weight had been recorded responded by a gradual gain in weight, a cessation of coughing, elimination of the blood streaked sputum, renewed vigor and stamina, restored appetite, a ruddy complexion, warm hands and feet, clear eyes and a general robustness of constitution which surprised most of all the patients themselves."

Similar reports from tubercular patients throughout America have convinced us that pulmonary tuberculosis can be overcome with "HAELAN" without leaving the home and without the inconvenience and enormous expense of traveling to distant climates.

Therefore, we offer "Haelan" to the public anywhere at very nominal cost on a rigid GUARANTEE TO PRODUCE SATISFACTORY RESULTS, or its full purchase price will be refunded. This guarantee is backed by a deposit of $1,000.00 in a large Denver bank.

Full particulars, testimonials, prices and a book on "The Modern Treatment for Tuberculosis" will be mailed free on request. Write today. The General Remedies Co., Dept. 55, Loop Building, Denver, Colorado, adv.

Half a CENTURY is a LONG TIME

IT is really fifty-one years now, for it was in 1873 that our founder, John M. Kohler, set up the little shop from which one of Wisconsin's great industries has grown.

It was a small shop then. Today, several thousand men and women daily pass through the Kohler gates on their way to work in factory and office. From Seattle to New York—and even to London; from Canada to the Gulf, are hundreds more, serving the Kohler branches.

But, after all, we should rather be measured, not by the everyday yardsticks of years and bigness, but by the quality of our enameled plumbing ware, by the usefulness of our electric power and light plants, and—most important—by the spirit of our organization as it finds expression in the pleasant homes and friendly activities of the Village of Kohler.

Didn't Waste Money on Food

The recent campaign against wastefulness in eating did not affect me much as I haven't been able to eat anything but toast and tea for the past five years. Even that would create gas and cause me distress. My weight was down to eighty-four pounds and my complexion muddier. I had frequent pains in the region of my appendix. I am glad I did not listen to an operation, as Mayr's "Wonderful Remedy" has made a new woman of me. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists. adv.

Women Of Britain Win As Medics

Ban Set Up By Profession Gradually Gives Way To Persistent Fight

BY MILTON BRONNER
London.—Slowly but surely and greatly aided by the war, women physicians of Great Britain and Europe generally are winning their way to a plane of absolute equality with men.

This was the impression I got from an interview with Lady Florence Barrett, considered the greatest woman physician in England.

Wife a famous physician, she is herself Fellow of the Royal Society of Medicine, president of the Medical Women's Federation, obstetric and gynecological surgeon at the Royal Free Hospital and lecturer in various important medical schools.

Here is how she sums up the position of women in medicine:

"Women have now been in the profession for more than 50 years. At first there was no school that would admit them—no examining body that would grant them diplomas. The difficulty, however, was overcome by our pioneers.

FOUND SCHOOL.
"Mrs. Garrett Anderson founded the London School of Medicine for Women and in the United Kingdom Dublin was the first to grant medical qualifications to women. The great difficulty was to obtain clinical experience for women students. Mrs. Anderson worked unrelentingly and in the end of the Royal Free Hospital opened its door to women internes.

"Two large London hospitals have been founded by women and are staffed entirely by women physicians and surgeons. In the Ministry of Health women hold important positions."
"Dr. Janet Campbell stands next to Sir George Newman, chief medical officer. In scientific work women are quietly contributing their share. Among others: Dr. Harriett Chick's work on vitamins is known all over the world and the clinical work of Dr. Helen Mackay is also of great importance.

"Dr. Helen Chambers has for years been working under the Medical Research Committee with regard to radiation in cancer. These are now in Great Britain about 2000 women practicing as physicians and surgeons.

NEW DANGER.
"A new danger is arising at the moment. It is the same subtle attack which is being made against women in all of the professions and trades—an attempt to pay women less than men. In England, equal pay for medical men and women doing the same work has been taken for granted and maintained through all these years.

"At the present time, however, a most concentrated attack is being made by public health bodies to pay women at a lower rate. We are fighting it, for if this inequality of payment should become effective, one of two things will result: either all the positions will be gradually staffed by women for the sake of economy, or else men applying for the jobs will also have to accept smaller remuneration.

"I have never been to America, but I believe the work that will be done in the future by the medical women in Great Britain and America probably will help women all over the world."

The kale is boiled with the ham, drained and finely chopped. Then it is put into a buttered baking dish with enough of the ham liquor poured to make moist and reheated in a hot oven.

MERINGUES (10)

Whites 3 eggs, 1 cup granulated sugar, 3 tablespoons water, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Beat eggs on a platter with a wire whisk until stiff and dry. Add water, beginning to beat. Beat in half the sugar and add the rest carefully with as little beating as possible. Season with vanilla. Drop from a spoon onto an inch board covered with heavy letter paper and bake in a slow oven for half an hour. Scoop out the soft inside and fill with ice to serve.

Total calories (without ice), 950. Protein, 50; carbohydrate, 900.

One-half cup stewed rhubarb, 1 cup rolled oats with 1 tablespoon sugar and ¼ cup cream, 2 tablespoons hash with 1 poached egg on buttered toast, 4 tablespoons stewed tomatoes, 2 ginger bread sandwiches, 1 cup cream of corn soup, 3 slices boiled cottage ham, 2 new potatoes in ½ cup cream sauce, 1 cup baked kale, 8 stalks asparagus on 2 ounces lettuce with 2 tablespoons mayonnaise, 1 whole meringue filled with 4 tablespoons strawberry ice masked with 4 tablespoons whipped cream, 1 toasted bran roll, 1 tablespoon fig marmalade, 2 Parker House rolls, 2 tablespoons butter, 1 egg-nog, 1 pint whole milk.

Total calories, 4083. Protein, 432; fat, 1683; carbohydrate, 1972. Iron, .0213 gram.

The egg-nog is suggested for the mid-morning lunch as the breakfast is quite light.

Cut ginger bread in thin slices and make into sandwiches using a mixture of Neufchatel cheese, chopped nuts, dates and a few grains of salt with enough sweet cream to make moist for the filling.

The soft part of the meringue is used with the ice and whipped cream for the gaining diet.

Add sugar and butter to the stewed tomatoes for the gaining diet, to increase the calories. When you realize that every 500 calories means about two ounces of fat for you it behooves you to aid and abet their increase. (Copyright, 1924, NEA Service, Inc.)

Here is the type of costume that appeals immediately to the business woman or the summer traveler—which includes womanhood pretty generally. It is made of black mohair worn over a sleeveless underdress of brilliant jade green mohair. The straight lines are becoming to almost any figure and the clever use of buttons and the close fitting collar make is very youthful in appearance as well as practical.

Adventures Of The Twins

THE PIPE-CLEANER MAN

Mister Fuzz Wuzz, the pipe-cleaner man, met the Twins at the door of Doofunny Land.

He bowed low, but sprang back instantly into place, and put on the high alk that he had quickly grabbed off his head upon their arrival.

Mister Fuzz Wuzz was quite a gentleman.

"How do you do?" he said, politely. "You're a little late, but it doesn't matter. The jury is all here but you. Now we can go on with the trial."

"What is a jury?" asked Nancy. "and what's a trial?"

"Were you expecting us?" Nick wanted to know.

Mister Fuzz Wuzz looked at his watch. "For the last half hour," he said. "But I'm surprised that you don't know what a jury is. It's 12 people who decide something. When somebody is blamed for doing some thing wrong, then they are taken to court, and 12 people are asked to come and hear all about it. They're called a jury. They decide whether the person is to blame, or not to blame. The whole thing is called a trial. Understand?"

"Yes, yes," cried the Twins. "Let's go right away. It sounds very exciting."

"It is," nodded Mister Fuzz Wuzz. "I'll tell you the facts of the case on the way."

So off they started.

"It's all about the peanut boy's nose," said Mister Fuzz Wuzz gravely. "It's broken."

"Did he get into a fight?" asked Nick.

"No! The tin-soldier rode his tin horse right over him, and it is the soldier who has to be tried," said Mister Fuzz Wuzz.

"It is very serious because once a peanut person's nose is broken it never mends, and his appearance is ruined. But here we are at the courthouse."

The Twins followed the pipe-cleaner man up the steps and through a hall into a large room that was simply packed with people. All Doofunny Land was there to see the trial—most of the people in the audience being the rest of the tin soldiers in the box where the prisoner belonged. They had come to help their comrade.

The cut-out man and his wife and all their children were there, too, and the rag doll and the pincushion lady and the Humpty Dumpty clown and the gingerbread man and the Teddy bear, and the wooden waddle duck and everybody.

"Go and sit down in those two empty chairs," whispered Mister Fuzz Wuzz. "I'm to be judge. Now begin, please," he said, taking off his high hat and going behind a big desk, where he looked as important as the president.

"Where is the prisoner?" he said loudly.

In rode the tin soldier on his tin horse.

"Dismount," thundered Mister Fuzz Wuzz. "You can't bring your horse in here."

"But I did bring him in, sir," said the tin soldier. "No trouble at all, sir! Besides, I can't leave him. He goes where I go. We're made in one piece."

Everybody laughed.

"Silence!" roared the pipe-cleaner man.

LETTER FROM RICHARD SUMMERS TO BEATRICE GRIMSHAW

MY DEAR BEATRICE:

I confess I expected to receive some sort of a letter in Chicago but I hardly expected the one which you wrote me.

In the first place, Bee, I resent very much the opinion you have of Paula Perier. One would think she was a modern vamp going about annexing all men she met.

She is nothing of the kind. She is only a little woman who has had a great deal of trouble, although she tells me none of it. She has not even told me, but sometimes when she thinks that not even I am observing her, her face is particularly sad. No one could picture suffering as she does if she had agonized.

I cannot help telling you, Bee, that we seem to have grown a great ways apart in the last three months. I do not think I am wholly to blame, although I am sure it would never do to take you to Hollywood as my wife.

We thought we loved each other, Bee, and because of that we came very near making a great mistake.

Don't jump at the conclusion that I am in love with Paula. I am very fond of her, yes, but even if I loved her devotedly I do not think she would return it in any way.

Perhaps that is one of the great charms of Miss Perier. Men always desire the unattainable. She seems to be so sure of herself. No man in Hollywood can say that Paula Perier has given him more than a passing glance and she has had for one reason or another nearly all the men in Hollywood at her feet.

I would have liked to have you meet her, Bee. Strange as it may seem I would have liked your opinion of her.

I know you are smiling as you read this, but you must remember you and I have been friends ever since we have been children and I value your opinion and judgment perhaps more than that of any other person. I know your opinion of me at the present moment is not particularly pleasant and perhaps it is true. Yet I think you are somewhat prejudiced and if I could really present my side of the question, you would have better premises from which to form conclusions.

However, I am going to accept your dictum. I am going to say goodbye. I want you to understand, however my dear, that perhaps I have a greater respect for you than for any other living woman, and while through a chain of peculiar circumstances I have found out that I never had a wild irresistible passion for you more than you had for me, yet in my heart I have always known you would make me happier and more content as a wife than any other woman. I have always looked forward to our marriage.

I am fully aware you will see in the paragraph I have just written proof that I think no one woman can be all things to one man.

Perhaps you are right. Are you sure, Bee, that I could be everything and all things to you? Think!!!

It is a good plan to poach eggs in a regular egg poacher, which costs but a few cents and does the job neatly without a loss of the white.

BY MAURICE HENLEY

The following comes to us from Victor M. Shapiro, personal representative for Samuel Goldwyn, the movie producer:

"We note with a great deal of interest what you say regarding the Goldwyn-Fitzmaurice production, 'Cytherea—Goddess of Love.'"

"While we agree with you that the ending of the photoplay is different from the ending in the book, in reality the picture version is an addition more in the nature of expressing what is uppermost in Lee Radstone's mind. You realize that he wanted to go home, but you feel that he did not have the moral courage to do so. It is in this predicament that Hergesheimer closes his book.

"I also feel that you will be interested in knowing that there was a definite reason for Mr. Fitzmaurice adding the scenes where the husband returns to his wife. In a story sent out by the West Coast, Mr. Fitzmaurice requested photoplay fans to write and tell him the ending they would prefer and that he would be guided accordingly.

"So, predominant were the requests for a happy ending from the fans and realizing also that he would be true to his art by adding these scenes, inasmuch as that interpretation is left in the reader's mind from the book. Miss Frances Marion who wrote the scenario and Mr. Fitzmaurice produced the picture according to the vote of the fans, and that which undoubtedly Joseph Hergesheimer had in mind when he wrote the book."

AFRAID SHE COULD NOT LIVE

Operation Advised, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Made It Unnecessary

Glasgow, Kentucky.—"I was run-down, nervous, with no appetite. My side had given me trouble for five or six years. At times it was all I could do to live, and the doctor said I couldn't live but a short time longer without an operation. That was two years ago. My sister-in-law recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. She had never used it herself, but she said one of her neighbors suffered just like I did, and it cured her. After I had taken four bottles the pain left my side. I had a fine appetite to eat anything that was put before me, and I began to do all my work and my washing, something I hadn't done for years. I am a dress-maker, and this last fall I began suffering with my side again, so I began taking the Vegetable Compound again. I am on my fourth bottle, which makes eight in all I have taken. I feel so much better when I take it and everybody tells me I look better. My appetite improves and I feel stronger in every way. I am a very nervous woman and it seems to help my nerves so much."—Mrs. MAGGIE WALLER, Glasgow, Kentucky.

SO BIG

By Edna Ferber

High Prairie was kind to the married household. The farm women went Dutch. The men lent a hand in the fields, though they were hard put to it to tend their own crops at this season. The Widow Paarlberg, still widow, still Paarlberg, brought soups and chickens and cakes which never stuck in Selina's throat because she refused to touch them. The Widow Paarlberg was what is known as goodhearted. She was happiest when someone else was in trouble. Hearing of an illness, a catastrophe, "Og heeden!" she would cry, and rush off to the scene with sustaining soup. She was a sort of a lady bountiful who likes to see her beneficiaries benefit before her very eyes. If she brought them soup at ten in the morning, she wanted to see that soup consumed.

"Eat it all," she would urge. "Take it now, while it is hot. See, you are looking better already. Just another spoonful."

In the DeJong's plight she found a griet satisfaction, clanked by commiseration. Selina, white and weak following her tragic second confinement, still found strength to refuse the widow's sustaining soups. The widow, her wife making a gentle surrus in the bare little bedroom, regarded Selina with eyes in which pity and triumph made a hard conflict. Selina's eyes, enormous now in her white face, were twin pools of Peck's pride.

"It's most kind of you, Mrs. Paarlberg, but I don't like soup."
"A whole chicken boiled in it."
"Especially chicken soup. Neither does Pervus. But I'm sure Mrs. Voorhees will enjoy it." This being Pervus's old housekeeper pressed into temporary emergency service.

It was easy to see why the DeJong house still was unpeopled two years after Selina's new plans began to form; why the fences still sagged, the wagon cracked, the stables half-ruined, the produce to market.

Selina had been married almost three years when there came to her a letter from Julie Hempel, now married. The letter had been sent to the Kias Pool farm and Jozina had brought it to her. Though she had not seen it since her days at Miss Fister's school, Selina recognized with a little hesitating heart-beat the spider handwriting with the shading and curlicues. Seated on her kitchen steps in her calico dress she read it.

Darling Selina—
I thought it was so queer that you didn't answer my letter and now I know you must have thought it queer that I did not answer yours. I found your letter to me, written long ago, when I was going over Mother's things last week. It was the letter you must have written when I was in Kansas City. Mother had never given it to me. I am not reproaching her. You see, I had written you from Kansas City, but had sent my letter to Mamma to mail because I never could remember that funny address of yours in the country.

Mamma died three weeks ago. Last week I was going over her things—a trying task, you may imagine—and there were your two letters addressed to me. She had never destroyed them. Poor Mamma....

Well, dear Selina, I suppose you don't even know that I am married. I married Michael Arnold of Kansas City. The Arnolds were in the packing business there, you know. Michael has gone into business with 18 here in Chicago and I suppose you have heard of that success. Just all of a sudden he began to make a great deal of money after he left the butcher business and went into the yards—the stockyards, you know. Poor Mamma was so happy these last few years, and had everything that was beautiful. I have two children, Eugene and Pauline.

I am getting to be quite a society person. You would laugh to see me. I am on the Ladies' Entertainment Committee of the World's Fair. We are supposed to entertain all the visiting big bugs—that is the lady bugs. There! How is that for a joke?

I suppose you know about the Infanta Eulalie, of Spain, you know. And what she did about the Potter Palmer ball....

Selina holding the letter in her work-stained hand, looked up and across the fields and away to where the prairie met the sky and closed in on her; her world. The Infanta, Eulalie of Spain.... she went back to the letter.

Well, she came to Chicago for the Fair and Mrs. Potter Palmer was to give a huge reception and ball for her. Mrs. P. is head of the whole committee, you know, and I must say she looks queenly with her white hair so beautifully dressed and her diamond dog-collars and her black velvet and all. Well at the very last minute the Infanta refused to attend the ball because she had just heard that Mrs. P. was an innkeeper's wife. Imagine! The Palmer House, of course. Selina holding the letter in her hand, imagined.

It was in the third year of Selina's marriage that she first went into the fields to work. Pervus had protested miserably, though the vegetables were spoiling in the ground.

"Let them rot," he said. "Better the stuff rots in the ground, DeJong women folks they never worked in the fields. Not even in Holland. Not my mother or my grandmother. It isn't for women."

Selina had regained health and vigor after two years of wretchedness. She felt steel-strong and even hopeful again, sure sign of physical well-being. Long before now she had realized that this time must inevitably come. So she answered briskly. "Nonsense, Pervus. Working in the fields is no harder than washing or ironing or scrubbing or standing over a hot stove in August. Women's work! Housework's the hardest work in the world. That's why men don't do it."

She would often take the boy Dirk with her into the fields, placing him on a heap of empty sacks in the shade. He invariably crawled off this lowly throne to dig and burrow in the warm black dirt. He even made as though to help his mother, pulling at the rooted things with futile fingers, and sitting back with a bump when a shallower root did unexpectedly yield to his tugging.

"Look! He's a farmer already," Pervus would say.

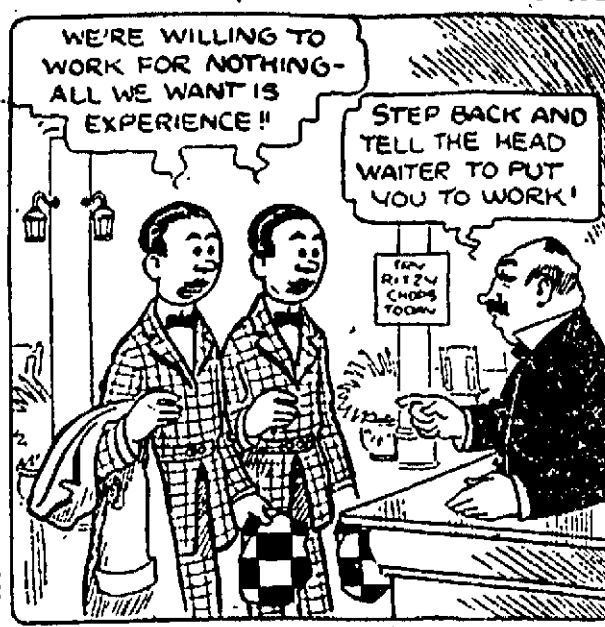

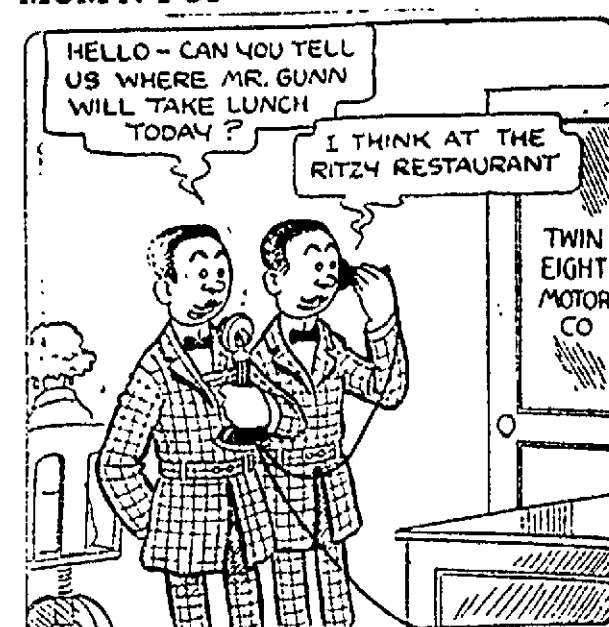

But within Selina something would cry. "Not No!"

During May, June, and July Pervus worked not only from morning until night, but by moonlight as well, and Selina worked with him. Often their sleep was a matter of three hours only, or four.

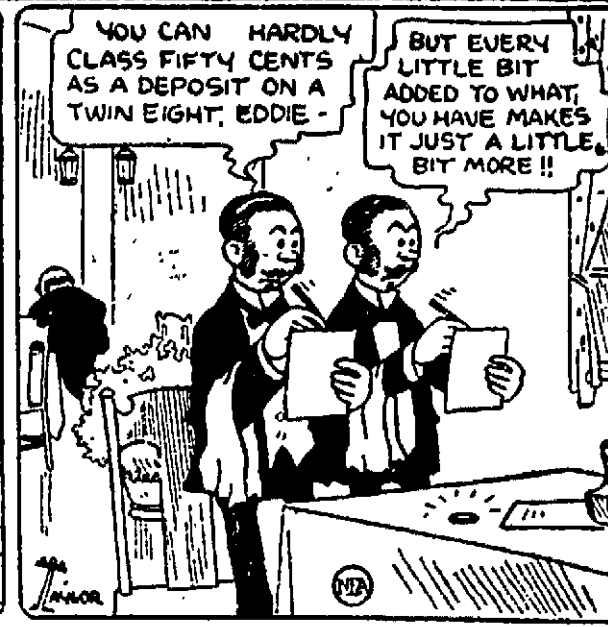

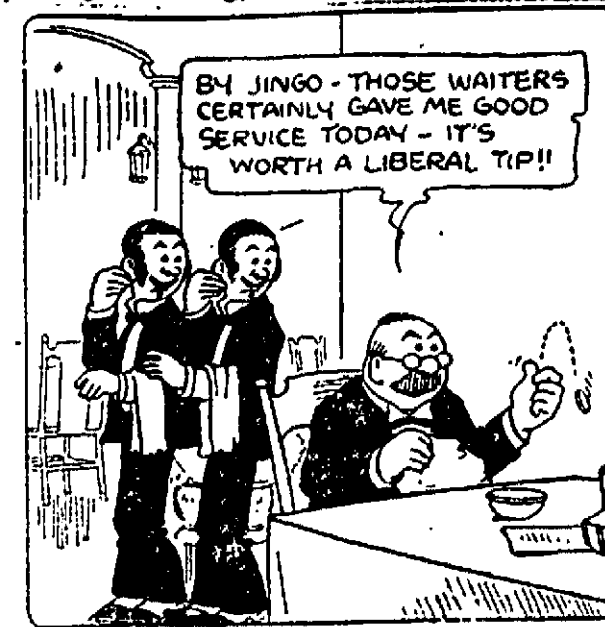

So two years went—three years—four. In the fourth year of Selina's marriage she suffered the loss of her one woman friend in all High Prairie. Mamma Pool died in childbirth. It was so often the case in this region where a Gampish midwife acted as obstetrician. The child, too, had not lived. Death had not been kind to Mamma Pool. It had brought neither peace nor youth to her face, as it often does. Selina looking down at the strangely still figure that had been so active, so bustling, realized that for the first time in the years she had known her she was seeing Mamma Pool at rest. It seemed incredible that she should lie there, the infant in her arms, while the house was filled with people and there were chairs to be hauled, space to be cleared, food to be cooked and served. Sitting there with the other High Prairie women Selina had a hideous feeling that Mamma would suddenly rise up and take things in charge; rub and scratch with capable fingers the spatters of dried mud on Kias Pool's black trousers she had been in the yard to see to the horses; quit the loud wailing of George and Jozina; pass her gnarled hand over Roel's wide-staring fearless eyes; wipe the film of dust from the parlor table that had never known a speck during her regime.

PAPERMAKERS WILL PLAY IN MENASHA ON SUNDAY

Appleton Will Make Strong Try To Reach Former Post At Head

Pails Meet Heavy Opposition at Green Bay Memorial Day While Smith's Outfit Remains Idle.

Appleton Sunday afternoon will invade Menasha for a contest with the Pails and will make a strong effort to offset its defeat Sunday at Green Bay. The Papermakers share second place in the McGowan loop with the Chairmakers, and are but one game behind the leading Neenah-Menasha club, which is due to invade Green Bay on Memorial day.

Chances are about even that the Baymen will win Friday and thus bring the Appleton team a bit closer to the top. Then if the Papermakers succeed in winning Sunday they will be in undisputed possession of the title post.

Players of the State league have had no fair chance to show their stuff this year. The weather has been cold and dreary for every contest, and the men found it difficult to play a lively game. The pitchers have suffered more than anyone else under this drawback, and warm weather will bring out a much better brand of ball, and also considerably larger crowds.

EXPECT BIG CROWD

Whenever Appleton has played the Twin cities in the past large crowds from both cities have attended the games, and next Sunday is expected to draw better than any other Appleton game this year. The Papermakers made a good showing against the Pails last year while "Rik" Lathrop was pitching against Rush, and with Stack on the mound this year they have a good chance of improving their record. Stack pitched a wonderful game against Green Bay Sunday until his hand was hurt in stopping a fast one, and then lost some of his control. He and Rush probably will stage a real pitchers' battle Sunday and the game promises plenty of excitement.

Rush has most of his last year's veterans back on his payroll this year, and three of them showed they were going in midseason form Sunday when they defeated the Pails. Leopold and Meizer each chalked up two hits Sunday, while Cissa poked three and was responsible for two runs. Rush, Warden, Wurth and Muench also hit safely. The fielding was rather ragged, and during the course of the game errors were marked down against Muench, Zelenka, Wurth and Falk.

The Pails should be in fine form for the Sunday contest as they will get plenty of practice at Green Bay Friday. Meizer probably will take the mound against Green Bay, although Rush will be ready to do his stuff at the first sign of weakening.

Urbana, Ill.—Harold Osborne, former University of Illinois athlete, set a world's high jump record of 6 feet 8 1/2 inches in preliminary Olympic trials.

Carpentier Looks Fit For Bout With Gibbons

Tommy Begins Tapering Off for Contest While Georges Plans to Abandon Stiff Schedule Thursday.

Michigan City, Ind.—Tommy Gibbons, St. Paul lightweight Wednesday starts the tapering off process of his training for his ten round contest with Georges Carpentier here next Saturday afternoon, while his French opponent stated that he is conditioned to the minute, plans to loaf, taking his final work out Thursday.

Carpentier working like an athlete superbly conditioned and ready for battle, engaged in a lively workout for the benefit of the newspaper correspondents Tuesday, boxing five rounds in addition to four rounds of gym exercises. His showing was astonishing and left no doubt in the minds of the critics that he is on edge.

"I can go into the ring tomorrow," Carpentier said after the workout. The Frenchman, looking bigger and more robust than on his first American appearance in 1921, performed with all his grace and skill, making his sparring partners miss by a fraction of an inch and timing his own blows like a sharp character. He went about his work like a boxer supremely confident of victory, joshing with the spectators and apologizing to his sparring partners for the stinging blows they absorbed.

CAMP IN RARE HUMOR
Carpentier was in rare humor. He posed for half a dozen photographs between rounds but pleaded with them in excellent English to "hurry up, hurry up." His mental attitude was expressed through his actions after his workout. He vaulted over the top rope of the ring and trotted down the gravelled road whistling and waving to the gaily dressed women who shouted "good luck" to him.

The smiling Gibbons is working methodically and plans to continue boxing until probably Friday afternoon. He boxed four opponents Tuesday taking them on for two rounds apiece but his only real workout was

DUNDEE MEETS CHILEAN BUT LEAVES CROWN HOME

By Associated Press
New York—Johnny Dundee meets Luis Vincentini, champion Chilean lightweight, at the Velodrome Wednesday night, but Johnny's featherweight crown will be left at home in its cotton batting. According to some dopesters this is just as well although Dundee enters the ring the favorite.

The Chilean has had five contests since coming to this country and has won four, three of them by knockouts. The fifth he lost to Johnny Hargue on points. Both men are said to be underweight for the bout. The articles stipulate 125 pounds.

SPORT VIEWS AND NEWS

Fox River Paper Co. of Appleton Sunday played a wonderful game of ball and treated the Kaukauna State leaguers to a drubbing. The Millmen showed almost uncanny ability to be at the right place at the right time, and spoiled a whole flock of hits for the Electric city batmen. LeRoux made four hits in four times at bat, and Kaukauna was held scoreless up to the fifth inning.

The Appleton Homeplayers team jumped to first place in the Kromer league Sunday by defeating Green Bay while New London was losing to DePere. Last year the Appleton Regulars finished at the tail end of the league at their side. This year they promise to reverse the story, and if they can keep up their present stride, they will have an easy time.

Fight fans are getting ready to flock to Michigan City where Georges Carpentier clashes with Tommy Gibbons Saturday. While there is no title involved, interest in the coming battle seems to be quite as extensive as in any championship. The sport columns are full of dope on the scrappers, and according to predictions neither of the two will have much advantage.

Jack Brunkhorst, Fond du Lac fight promoter, apparently has given up his plans for a meeting between Bud Gorman and Martin Burke. Possibly he will stage this bout after July 4, but now he is waiting until Delaney completes his wedding trip and announces his readiness to get back to into the ring for his fights.

RENAULT IS READY FOR ALL COMERS, FLYNN SAYS

Leo Flynn, who has more fighters than Wildcat Mack had wives, says Jack Renault, his heavyweight, is now ready for all comers, not excepting Jack Dempsey.

with Tillie "Kid" Herman, an aggressive 145-pounder. Gibbons gave the impression in his boxing with Herman that he intends to fight Carpentier at close range.

For a boxing contest without any title involved, the Saturday event promises to attract a gate of $250,000 according to the advance indications. All the $20 seats, the choicest in the arena, have been sold or reserved.

Carpentier will receive $70,000 including $5,000 for expenses, while Gibbons will get 30 per cent of the receipts. If the gate hits the 400,000 mark Gibbons will draw down $90,000. Johnson Coulon, former heavyweight champion, who toured France with Carpentier on an eight weeks trip before Georges met Dempsey, believes Carpentier has an excellent chance of victory provided he accomplishes it in the first five rounds. If the contest goes the distance Coulon believes Gibbons has the better chance. Coulon expressed his opinion after looking both Carpentier and Gibbons over Tuesday.

TOP, QUIMET; BOTTOM, SWEETSER.

Two of the outstanding amateur golfers of the country, both former title holders, will not be among those present when the professionals assemble here for their month. Francis Quimet of Boston and Jess Sweetser of New York have announced their inability to compete.

A number of other amateurs, however, will be on hand, including Bob Jones, who now holds the open title, and Max Marston, present amateur champion.

Do you know Baseball?

by Billy Evans.

QUESTIONS

1. This play recently broke up a game in which I was one of the players. There were runners on first and second and one out, when the batter hit a hard groundball to the shortstop. The ball tipped his glove, passed through his legs and then struck the runner who was originally on second, then on his way to third. The umpire, after hesitating for some time, called the runner who was hit by the ball out for interference. Was that ruling correct? It broke up the game.—R. M.

2. Please give a decision on this play. Runner on first starts to steal second. Fielder receives the ball ahead of runner, a few feet from second base. In the collision that followed the runner somersaulted over the infielder and came down right on the bag, the fielder dropped the ball, picked it up, then fell unconscious, still holding the ball. The umpire ruled the runner safe.—C. C. H.

ANSWERS

1. After a fielder once makes a play on the ball and it gets away from him, the ball is regarded in play and no consideration is given the fact that it later hit a base runner. The umpire was in error in calling the runner out for being hit by a batted ball.

2. The umpire was correct in ruling the runner safe. In a touch play the ball must be held. The moment the ball touched the ground it made void the previous touch.

LATE SPRING HITS THIRTIETH ANNUAL CAMP RANDALL MEET

List of Entries Smaller Than Usual but Competition Will Be Close

Madison—Although the entries for the Thirtieth Annual Wisconsin Intercollegiate track and field meet to be held at Camp Randall Saturday under the auspices of the University of Wisconsin are not as large as last year, doubtless due to the unusually late spring which prevented many schools from working out of doors, indications point to an unusually close meet and several records of long standing may be broken.

Only eighteen high schools are entered in Class A (schools with more than 300 enrollment) with 288 athletes; while 170 athletes are entered from twenty-six schools in Class B (under 300). Seventeen men from nine schools are entered in the tennis tournament.

Milwaukee will be represented by seven high schools, then Lincoln school entering for the first time this year. Wauwatosa is entered again and Milwaukee County School of Agriculture is a new entrant, giving Milwaukee county nine high schools in the meet.

Governor Blaine will be Honorary Referee, with Director T. E. Jones acting Referee. George Berg, Director Intramural Athletics at the University will be starter, while University professors and Varsity track athletes will act as judges, timers, etc. The high schools entered are:

Class A—Green Bay, East; Janesville; Kenosha, Madison, East and Central; Marinette; Milwaukee; Lincoln, North, Riverside, South, Washington and West; Racine; Viroqua; Wauwatosa and Wisconsin Rapids.

Class B—Brooklyn, Burlington, Darlington, Dodgeville, Elroy, Gays Mills, Janesville, Kaukauna, County Agricultural school; Monticello, New Holstein, Norwalk, Oconto Falls, Ontario, Milton Union, River Falls, Roberts, Rosendale, Soldiers Grove, Spooner, Sun Prairie, Viola, Watertown, Wauzeka, Westby, Wisconsin High Madison, Mineral Point.

LAWRENCE NETTERS FACE TWO TOURNEYS

Lawrence netters Wednesday were all set to meet the invading Oshkosh teachers in a tennis match postponed from Friday, and looked for a hard tourney on their own courts. They were scheduled for three singles and one doubles match, and although there is but one defeat chalked up against them and that by the strong Marquette team, they anticipated some fast play with the Normal school stars.

On Friday morning at 9:30 the Blues are due to play a return match with the Hilltoppers who invade this city. The Marquette men are fast and sure players, and beat the Lawrence netters by a close margin in Milwaukee several weeks ago. The Blues have improved somewhat since that time and will make a strong try to even their score Friday.

ROD AND REEL

M. J. V. FOSE

FLY CASTING, Part I.
Here's a simple method by which any novice or beginner can learn the art of fly casting with little practice and the proper equipment.

Hold the rod with the guides up, attached to the reel seat, with the group of the reel to the left. This will place the reel handle on the right of the rod, where it remains when fly casting. Strip off 15 to 20 feet of line and thread it through the guides. Attach a wet gut leader—that is one which has been thoroughly soaked in water so that it is pliable—to your line, and a fly to the leader.

The rod now being completely equipped, the angler is ready to begin casting; the back cast and the forward cast. Your success or failure as a fly caster is determined by your ability to accurately gauge the time the end of the back cast and the beginning of the forward cast.

The essential difference between bait casting and fly casting is that in bait casting you are using your rod to throw your bait or lure and in fly casting the rod is used to throw or whip the line. In other words, you are casting a line instead of a bait.

Pull a few feet of line from the reel and let it fall to the ground. Then grasp the line again with the left hand about a foot from the first guide, keeping the line taut in the left hand. Whip the rod back and forth with the right hand until you have fed through the guides 15 to 20 feet of line. This will enable one to get the feel of the rod.

The rod, at this stage of the game, is raised to perpendicular position, hesitating there until the line has passed back and straightened out behind one. While the line is short, this straightening will only take a second's time, and the pause should be about one, two, count. In making the back cast do not permit the tip of the rod to go back farther than a perpendicular position.

Giants Gain On Cubs When Pirates Defeat Chicago Club, 5 To 4

Cincinnati and St. Louis Split Doubleheader While Boston Takes Two from League Trailing Phillies.

By Associated Press
The Giants are half a game further ahead of the close trailing Cubs Wednesday. They owe it partly to the weather because rain kept them idle Tuesday while the Chicago National outfit was getting trimmed by the Pirates in a ten-inning battle, 6 to 4.

The league-trailing Phillies sank still lower when Boston captured both sides of a doubleheader, 5 to 4, and 10 to 6. In the first game the Phillies made a desperate stab at victory in the eighth with a three-run rally which tied the score. The ninth was blank on both sides, but Boston squeezed in the winning run in the tenth with two out. In the second game the Braves held the lead throughout.

Cincinnati and St. Louis split a doubleheader, the Reds losing the first, 4 to 3, and winning the second, 3 to 1. Cooney's double with Gonzales on second gave the Cardinals the winning run in the opener after the Reds had tied the score with a three-run rally in the same frame. In the second game Cincinnati led all the way.

In the American league, George Uhle outpitched three Chicago twirlers and won for Cleveland, 7 to 2, while in Detroit Bert Cole won his first game of the season by holding St. Louis to three scattered hits until the ninth and winning, 5 to 4, thereby easing the Browns out of third place.

Brooklyn was idle with the Giants in New York while in the American and the Yankees and Senators and the Red Sox and Athletics in their quarters.

Larry Gardner, for 15 years an American league third baseman who has been coaching with the Cleveland Indians, took a whirl at second basing Tuesday against the White Sox and handled three chances without a slip.

Manager George Sisler of the Browns, who has been in a prolonged batting slump, broke into the hit column by cracking out a single in the ninth inning against the Tigers.

Denver Grigby of the Cubs made a great run and diving catch of a short line drive off Bigbee's bat and doubled the fleet footed Max Carey off second in the game against the Pirates.

Ray Grimes, star first baseman of the Cubs, showed his disapproval of Umpire Greene's decisions on balls and strikes by throwing his bat high over the plate when called out in the tenth inning in the game with the Pirates. He was chased to the club house by the officials.

W. A. Miltenberger a spectator at the St. Louis-Cincinnati doubleheader at St. Louis, dropped dead of heart disease shortly after Jake Daubert, first baseman of the Reds, cracked out a homer in the second game. It was the first circuit blow of the season for the veteran.

APPLETON GOLFER SHOOTS 84 SCORE IN CHICAGO MEET

Frank Walsh Is Among Early Finishers in Western Elimination Rounds

Chicago—Golf of all qualities was displayed Tuesday by the entrants in the western elimination rounds for the open championship to Lake Party Country club, some of the stars falling to take advantage of the fine weather and shooting poorly, while others were better than par most of the way. Emmett French of Youngs, town who Monday set a record of 70 for the course only to drop it later to George Sargent of Columbus, was not quite so keen Tuesday, taking 83-85, which was low among the early finishers.

The same figures were returned by Alex Cunningham of Toledo and Ed die William of Peoria. The fine weather after weeks of rain and cold weather made the course all but perfect for so early in the season and a large number of spectators came to watch the crack players. Jack Hutchinson and Wilfred Reid drew the largest gallery in the morning but the greatly increased afternoon assemblage trailed Chuck Evans and S. Davidson Heron, both formerly national amateur champions.

Among other early finishers was Frank Walsh, Appleton, with 43-41, for 84.

WOMAN COMMANDS SHIP

The four mastel schooner, Ruth Martin, which plies between the New England Coast and Florida, is in command of a woman, Captain Jennie Crocker. She became skipper of the schooner at her husband's suggestion after she had gone to sea with him for years. She passed the examination with flying colors and at times commanded her husband when he was aboard. Her steward is her father-in-law, and she is the only woman on record in command of an ocean going craft.

Smith's hold on the lead was not certain by any means, for Harry Hampton of Canton, O., who played around with him, got a 73, and Richard Linares, Long Beach, Calif., and Dewey Weber of Chicago were only one stroke behind Hampton.

Such redoubtable players as Jack Hutchinson, Chicago, former British open champion, and George Sargent, Columbus, who set a course record here Monday with a 69, had scores of 75 to their credit.

MacDonald Smith of San Francisco, open champion, who finished third last year in the British open, was leading the field at the end of the first half of the qualification round, having equalled par on the 6,494-yard course, having gone out in two above and coming back two below perfect figures, 72.

PASTORS CHOSEN TO GIVE SERMONS AT SAENGERFEST

Day's Program at Pierce Park
Sunday Will Open at 10 O'clock

Two outside pastors are to preach at the devotional services of the Fox River Valley Lutheran Saengerfest at Pierce park next Sunday.

German services will be held at the park at 10 o'clock and the sermon will be preached by the Rev. Martin Sauer of Brillion. The afternoon service opening at 2 o'clock will be in charge of the Rev. August Zich of Green Bay, who will preach in English.

The chorus of approximately 300, made up from choirs of various churches of the valley, is to present an elaborate musical program at each of these services, with accompaniment by two orchestras and the Northwestern college band of Watertown.

Only sacred numbers will be given in the morning but there will be a mixed group of selections in the afternoon's singing. Complete programs are being printed for distribution to the visitors.

Equipping of the park for the huge gathering will take place within the next two or three days. This will include erection of a temporary kitchen, platforms for the singers and musicians, and seats for the audience.

Some concern has been shown by the arrangements committee because of the continued wet weather, but clear days from now on until Sunday will make it possible to stage the saengerfest satisfactorily. Fair weather will bring about 10,000 people here.

CAN FISH IN PEACE AFTER SATURDAY

The uncertainty of hook and line fishing ends on June 1 when the seasons opens on all fishing except black bass, the state conservation commission has announced.

In previous years hook and line fishing has been legal in the early spring and summer but a bill passed by the last legislature prohibited all fishing until June 1.

The closed season aroused much opposition from all sections of the state. In fact nobody seemed to be in favor of it. Petitions against the closed season came to Gov. Blaine and he issued a statement in which he said that he believed the law was called for and that he could not see how the conservation commission could enforce the law. Some fishermen took this to indicate that fishing would be permitted and fished. The conservation commission did not prosecute any fishing cases under the new law.

The next legislature is expected to wipe out the new closed season law when it meets next winter.

APPLETON MAN, IN MARINES ON DUTY ON U. S. S. TEXAS

William Corey, son of Mrs. Mary Corey, 1037 College Ave., is a member of the U. S. Marine detachment on the battleship Texas, one of the largest battleships of the Atlantic fleet. He joined the marines last August at San Francisco and for several weeks was stationed at San Diego before being assigned to duty on the Texas, where the marines are taught the use of certain types of guns and to perform gund duties. The Texas recently returned from the West Indies where it took part in the maneuvers with other battleships of the fleet. It probably will start on a new cruise shortly, affording the Appleton boy an opportunity to view many interesting places along the Atlantic seaboard or in the tropics.

ROADS TO TROUT STREAMS ARE HARD TO GET OVER

Trout fishermen report unhappy experiences on their early excursions into the Langlade, Forest, Oconto and Marinette-co waters. The roads are bad and the streams high and muddy. Nevertheless, a good many fish have been taken. Especially during the last week rains have been so general and persistent that dirt and thin surface roads have been turned into quagmires and many of the usual avenues of approach to favorite trout pools have been impossible. The rains also have raised the water to rushing torrents and have muddied the streams so that fishing is not good. As usual thus early, fly baits are not eagerly taken by the trout, and the best results have been had with common earthworms.
